How Can the Public Review Project Information?

All project documents (i.e. site plan drawings, applications, City documents, public comments) are posted in the Online Permit Center following the submission of an application.

1. Access the Online Permit Center by visiting <https://cityview.ci.bend.or.us/Portal/>
2. Select "Application Search" under "Planning and Historic"
3. Type in the project name, File number or address in the search box.
4. For first-time users of the Online Permit Center, consider visiting bendoregon.gov/permitcenter to view trainings on how to navigate the portal.

How Can the Public Participate in Land Use Planning in Their Neighborhoods?

1. Become a member of your Neighborhood Association! Neighborhood Associations provide residents the opportunity to help shape the future of their neighborhood and the City through their role in land use.
2. Find your Neighborhood Association by visiting bendoregon.gov/neighborhoodassociations.
3. Open either the interactive or the printable Neighborhood Association map and identify the Neighborhood Association in which your residence is located.
4. Visit your Neighborhood Association's website by finding their name listed on the main page above.
5. Follow instructions for enrollment as a Neighborhood Association member.
6. Contact your Neighborhood Association Land Use Chair.

For help connecting with your Neighborhood Association, contact Makayla Oliver, Community Relations Manager at (541) 323-8571 or moliver@bendoregon.gov.
